

CLARK INTERESTS FILE MILLION DOLLAR BOND

HUGE SUPERSEDEAS SECURITY IS PUT UP BY HULL COPPER CO. TO STAY COURT ORDER APPOINTING RECEIVER.

(From Saturday's Daily)

Attorneys Anderson & Ellis, representing the Hull Copper Company and the Clark interests, yesterday filed a million dollar supersedeas bond in the Superior court, the bond being one of the largest of its sort ever filed in the State and having the effect of staying the court's order turning the property of the defendant corporation over into the hands of the recently-appointed receiver. The big bond was signed by W. A. and Charles Clark, as principals in the case and by the following-named Prescott people as sureties: F. W. Wells, M. B. Hazeltine, Mrs. Hugo Richards, J. Gardner, Henry Brinkmeyer, Walter Miller, Jerry W. Sullivan, C. A. Peter and O. A. Hesla.

The receiver for the Hull Copper Company was named several weeks ago by Judge Lyman of the Maricopa Superior court, who held a special session in Prescott to consider the case. A number of the minority stockholders, represented in the suit by William Kemp of Boston, are endeavoring to secure possession of a large block of the company's stock held at present by Charles Clark of the United Verde Copper Company, the suit alleging that Clark had secured possession of the shares after the late George W. Hull had secured them in a fraudulent manner. The court's order appointing R. H. Hetherington of Prescott as receiver came after the plaintiffs had informed the court that they believed that Clark intended to take certain steps which would not be to the best interests of the stockholders, and asked the court for protection. In naming the receiver, the court announced that if Clark and the interests which he represented would file a bond of $1,000,000 to protect the minority shareholders in event the contemplated moves of Clark were found not to be for the welfare of the organization, the receivership order could be vacated until such time as the court had opportunity to look into the merits of the whole proposition. The bond was accordingly filed, and the receivership will be deferred, at least until the trial is finished.

The attorneys representing the Hull and Clark interests state that they will be able to show to the satisfaction of the court that the necessity for throwing the company's affairs into the hands of a receiver does not exist, and that the plans which Mr. Clark has in mind regarding the future of the Hull company, in which he holds a controlling interest, will not work hardship on any of the stockholders. August 26th is the date set for the resumption of the trial.

Widow Files Damage Suit

Mrs. Amber Thompson, widow of the late Joseph S. Thompson of Humboldt, yesterday filed suit in the Superior court against the A. T. & S. F. Railway Company, asking damages in the sum of $25,000 for the killing of Mr. Thompson at Humboldt on February 9, 1918. Mrs. Thompson was recently named as administratrix of the estate of her husband. Her complaint states that Mr. Thompson was killed while riding one of the gasoline motor cars which are used by the section workers in making their trips to and from their work. Thompson was a section foreman and on the date mentioned had gone to a point several miles from town to repair a broken rail. He and his crew came back after dark and the speeder collided with a cut of one car which had been left standing on the main track. The speeder was wrecked and Thompson was killed. The complaint charges that the company was guilty of criminal carelessness in not placing a light on the cut of cars which had been left on the main track.

Will Probated

The will of the late Mrs. Ethel Favour was yesterday admitted to probate, and Daisy Jones, Elizabeth Hancock and H. E. Baker named as appraisers.

FUNSTON AGLOW WITH SPIRIT OF PATRIOTISM

(From Saturday's Daily)

Harry Brisley has returned from Camp Funston, where he visited with his son, Sergeant Harold Brisley, of Battery B, of an artillery corps, who is soon to sail for overseas duty, and this is the manner in which he expressed himself over military affairs at that continent:

"The spirit of patriotism among officers and men is wonderful, and it left such an impression that cannot be appreciated except by witnessing the eagerness which seized all to get in action overseas. It is a remarkable scene and is not confined to one unit but to all arms of the service. All troops are thoroughly drilled, and it is quite probable that after they reach their stations abroad they will be ready for any duty, without preparatory instruction in actual fighting. The co-ordination between rank and file is like a pivot revolving on a single base, and all is unity of purpose. That patriotism is now being emptied of its 40,000 soldiers, and all are leaving rapidly for an eastern seaport, presumably to embark."

"My son has been detached from an officers' training school and will go with his command overseas, qualifying for a commission probably in France. He could have remained in the United States for the next three months to receive final instruction, but like all others, preferred to go abroad with his command even at the loss of a higher rank. So that incident in reality is the actual situation at Funston, and my son is no exception to scores of similar cases. It is fight to the last ditch, and the sooner the better.

"During my visit to many cities in the middle west the same spirit of co-operation between the industrial and the military elements was strikingly shown in many ways. For instance in the larger centers all manufacturing and other industrial firms had caught the true meaning of patriotism in a manner, which forcibly impressed me in one particular instance. It was that when the harvest begins later all employees are to be willingly released for gathering crops, and thereby will be solved the labor problem in that respect. The city employee also is welcoming this action, and from what I could learn Kansas this year will have its biggest wheat crop ever known to give employment of so many thousands who are waiting for the sound of the bugle to advance on the food firing line. Another thing which greatly impressed me in the war food movement was an inspection made of so many lots in cities which are now productive, the silent answer being 'It is for the Allies.'

CLIMATIC FREAK RECALLS LONG AGO.

(From Thursday's Daily)

Flakes of snow falling in Prescott yesterday morning occasioned general comment as another freak outburst of the unsteady elements which in the past two years have shattered all previous records, summer or winter.

But as the white goods were being sprinkled lightly from above, and May being on its last legs, this coincidence brought Morris Asher to revive what occurred in this city during the 18th day of this month in 1877. He procured an old diary book, which recorded a fall of snow to a depth of 12 inches which was measured on the plaza on the level, on that day 41 years ago. "Winter slumbering in the lap of spring," is an old adage which is applicable to what is now seizing this region as the climate again twists itself into the unexpected.

GERMAN WOMEN MUST REGISTER ON JUNE 17

(From Wednesday's Daily)

Chief of Police Bloom yesterday received notice from U. S. Marshal Joe Dillon of Phoenix, that the time for the registration of German alien women in this district had been set for the period between Monday, June 17, and Wednesday, June 20th, the registration office at the city hall to be open between the hours of 6 a. m. and 8 p. m.

During this period all women of German birth and allegiance will be compelled to appear before the chief of police, give him what information the official blanks call for and furnish a complete set of finger prints. Further details regarding the registration will be made public later.

CLAYPOOL BILL RECOMMENDED FOR PASSAGE

HUNT'S PET COUNCIL OF DEFENSE MEASURE IS BY COMMITTEE AND UP TO SENATE; EDDY WANTS THE PRESS CURBED.

PHOENIX, May 31.—The Claypool bill, creating a State Council of Defense, came up in the senate in committee of the whole this morning, and after some slight amendments was recommended for passage. While there was but little discussion of the measure while it was under consideration this morning, debate is expected to break out when it comes up for passage, and the going will not then be as smooth as it appeared to be this morning.

Eddy Loves the Press
Representative Eddy of Yuma added a touch of spice to an otherwise dull session of the house by the introduction of an amendment to the criminal code, which is intended as a disciplinary measure to the press of the State.

The Eddy bill is known as house bill No. 12 and is an act to amend paragraph 34 of chapter 4 of title 1, pertaining to the designation of contempt, and the punishment thereof by the State legislature and declaring an emergency. The contempt act is to be amended by the addition of the following: "The publication of a false and malicious report of the proceedings, or the conduct of a member in his legislative capacity." An emergency is declared to exist and the early passage of the act is necessary to the peace and health of the people of the State of Arizona.

Just wherein the press of the State has offended the representative from Yuma will probably come out when the bill reaches the floor for discussion—if it ever does.

Back to Committee

The committee on printing reported back the bill providing for amendment to the primary election laws with the recommendation that it does not come within the call for the special session. Representative Vaughn, patron of the bill, stated that the measure is intended to permit the soldiers to participate in the primary and he had been told that it was necessary. A motion was made to send the bill to the judiciary committee for report as to whether or not it comes within the call and in the meantime it was ordered printed.

Relief Bill

The bill providing an appropriation of $17,500 for the widows and children of the three Graham county officers who were killed by the Powell brothers and Sisson, draft evaders, was reported out of the judiciary committee in new form, intended to meet the requirements of the call for the session and bring it within the section referring to war measures.
